BLOOD-MAKING TONIC TREATMENT

A Cure for Anaemic Conditions That Is Showing Remarkable Proofs of Cures in Stubborn Cases.

Stubborn Cases.

When the body becomes rundowa, either as a result of overwork, worry or a severe illness, an examination of the blood would show it to be weak and watery. This condition is called anæmic, which is the medical term for "bloodless." The common symptoms are paleness of the lips, guma and cheeks, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart after the slightest exertion, duil eyes and oss of appetite. Anaemia itself is a dangerous disease, and it may graduary pass into consumption. It must be cured by treating its cause, which is the poor condition of the blood. The vital fluid must be made strong and healthy, thereby enabling it to carry the necessary nourishment to every tissue of the body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest builder of rich new blood, and they have been curing anaemia and other blood diseases for nearly a generation, during which time they have nome to be recognized as an invaluable household remedy. The statement of Mrs. Claud Moore, who lives shout six miles from Defiance, shows flow these pills cure cases that stubbornly resist ordinary methods of treatment. Mrs. Moore's address is R. F. D. No. 8, Defiance, Ohio. She shys:

R. F. D. No. 8, Defiance, Ohio. She says:

"In 1904, when I was attending Defiance College, I would come home all tired out and became very weak. I had always had bright red cheeks, but I seemed to lose my color, and became eachly white. The physician at Defiance said I was all rundown, and I took his medicine, but grew worse instead of better. My friends thought I was going into consumption.
"My mother had heard of a case that the doctors said was anaemia that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured, and finally she said to me: The doctor's medicine don't seem to help you a paticile, and I am going to get you some of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.' She did, and in a week's time I began to feel like myself again. I took in all seven hoxes. They cured me, and I feel fine now and am in good health. I have recommended the pills to several of our neighbors."

CHICAGO, November 2.—In the heart of the great, noisy West Side there is a solution, quiet house to-day. It is the house where there was recently revealed one of the saddest tragedies known in Chicago for months. There the body of Mrs. Winifred Henry was discovered clasping the form of her dead son after she had ended her own life.

The boy had been dead for several days. The mother held the secret of his deaths of that the body could not be form from her. Apparently she had kept her watch until, worn with anguish and crazed with grief, she decided to end her pain by turning on the gas in her room.

"What condition?" asked the other.

"That you let me see a sight no human eye ever saw yot."

"What's that?" inquired the would-be purchaser.

"Why," said Mr. Rhodes, "a bucketful of diamonds in one heap."

"Done! cried Barney, overjoyed to close the deal on his own terms. So they emptied the De Beers diamonds into a bucket. The came the turn of Mr. Rhodes, who practically had to himself the diamond market during six weeks, the time required for restoring the stones into their 160 classifications.—Harper's Weekly.

Find Bodies Together.

Detectives Bowler and Barry, of the Desplanes Street Station, knocked at the closed door. There was no response, and they put their shoulders to it and braced themselves against. The lock gave way, and there was an outrush of gas. The two policemen were almost overcome.

Lying on the bed in a death embrace they found the bedy of her boy. The mother's life had become extinct but a few hours before the door had been burst open.

Little at first could be learned of the dead body of her boy until Tuesday night. Then she stuffed all the cracks in the room and turned on four gas jets. When found her cheek was found pressed close to that of her boy. It is only one of the stories that go to make up the tales of a great city.

STIEFF

The PIANO That Everyone Can Play

This instrument is nothing more or less than a seir-playing mechanism (as perfect as human artistic skill cau make it), built into the renowned Stieff Upright Plano, in no way whatever detracting from the wonderful tone or the exterior appearance of the plano.

Self-playing attachment operators the mechanical part of the piano, with all of the shading, tempo, the color and the soul of the composer conveyed through the operator's every impulse by the use of the expression levers, so conveniently arranged that his every mood and feeling are, conveyed through this wonderful instrument.

The Plano is at all times ready to be played by the mechanism or by hand in the usual way, or the performer who so wishes may add additional notes to the composition with either or both hands, while the perforated roll brings out all of the melody or the accompaniment, as intended by the com-out all of the melody or the accompaniment, as intended by the com-poser, as the mechan-ism of the player-action does in no way inter-fere with the action of the Stieff Plano, and is not attached to or made a part of our regular Plano, but simply a player placed inside of our regular Stieff Plano.

It is a Pleasurable Necessity, Not a Luxury

The resources and possibilities of the Stieff Self-Player Plane are almost unlimited. Every music-lover, who unfortunately may not be an accomplished musician, by this instrument is enabled to correctly interpret the most difficult compositions. It is a plane for the home, which may be played by any member of the family or their visiting friends and relatives.

Denver Girl, Who Won National Contest, Takes a Husband.

DENVER, COL November 2 — Miss Marguerite Frey, daughter of Mrs. B.

A. Frey and winner of the national beautity contest, was married Saturday to Wilkins McClair Armour, of Dallas, Tex. formerly of Denver. The wedding was a surprise.

Tired of being pointed out as the most beautiful woman in America Miss Frey wanted to avoid as much publicity as possible, so the quiet wedding was decided upon, and only her family knew of the date.

Gowned in a tailored suit of Alice blue, with a large black satin hat, trimmed with blue satin and blue feathers, Miss Frey made an exquisite bride. She carried a gorgeous bouquet of lines of the valley and violets.

Taft and the Negro Question

The REPUBLICAN PLATFORM contains the following and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution, which are designed for the advancement and protection of the negro, and we condemn all devices which have for their real aim his disfranchisement for reasons of color alone, as unfair, un-American and repugnant to the supreme law of the land."

In his speech of acceptance of the Republican nomination MR. TAFT said:

The Republican platform refers to those amendments to the Constitution that were passed by the Republican party for the protection of the negro. * * It is needless to state that I stand with my party squarely on that plank in the plat-

If the Republican party and Mr. Taft DO NOT mean to enforce these declarations if given the power, then that party and its candidate are liars and demagogues, and as such unworthy of the support of any right-thinking Southern man.

If the Republican party and Mr. Tatt DO mean what they say, then Virginia and every Southern State must, in the event of Republican success, expect the most vigorous partisan attack upon the validity or our new election laws, and the most determined effort to restore the negro to political power.

Both candidates are personally clean and honest, but it is the party-not the candidates for President-who will be put in power by this election.

How can any white man in Virginia hesitate as to how he shall vote? (Adv.)
